PUBLIC SAFETY CAMPAIGN

SAFETY COUNCIL TO INSPECT ALL AUTOMOBILES

The State Public Safety Campaign is designed to offset the two main causes of automobile accidents so far as it is humanly possible to do so. The causes are:

1. The Human Equation—Careless, thoughtless, reckless driving; ignorance of traffic laws; complete or partial disregard of same; influential obstruction of the law's due course.
2. The Mechanical Equation—Poor condition of safety factors of passenger and commercial automobiles—brakes, lights, horns, steering mechanism—causing approximately 30% of all accidents.

The Michigan Safety Council, of which the Governor of the State is Chairman, comprises the Michigan Commissioner of Public Safety; police authorities, officers of Automobile Clubs and of other civilian organizations. The Council aims to increase the law's effectiveness through voluntary fusion of civilian influences with those of constituted regulatory authorities; to attempt to lessen the distinction which gradually has tended to become established, which segregates officers of the law on the one side who in the minds of many signify "The Law," and puts civilians on the other side, who to many signify a group who should be against the law. In short, to enlarge the law's sphere of influence and multiply the number of citizens who actively support it.

Official Inspection Stations

Local commercial garages, adequate in number in each locality, will be designated by local Community Safety Committees, approved by the Michigan Safety Council. Their names and locations will be made public. They will be authorized to inspect, free of charge, cars which may be brought to them. Any car or truck owner will be free to select his own inspection station and must not be obligated to have needed work done at the station which inspects his car or truck unless he so elects.

Certificate of Inspection

All Official Inspection Stations will be furnished with Official Safety stickers to be signed by the inspector and attached to the windshield of the car inspected, provided car is in safe condition or has been made safe.

Police Recognition—Police officers will honor signatures of inspectors on windshield stickers and will not detain drivers for "Police Inspection" unless circumstances indicate that further inspection is necessary.

Station Numbers—All stations will be assigned numbers and will receive direct from the Michigan Safety Council at Lansing official forms.

Mary Niedringhaus

Pretty Mary Niedringhaus, daughter of Congressman-elect and Mrs. Harry E. Niedringhaus from Missouri, will be a welcome addition to the youngest set of the National Capital when her father takes his seat in the Seventieth congress.

Editors—Isbrand Harder, Ellen Speck, Corinne Sheldon.

Melvin—I just saw a woman down town and one side of her face was all black.

Marius—But what made it that way?

Melvin—I don't know how it got that way but the other side was all black too.

Steve—"Are nuts supposed to be healthy?"

Dorothy—"What's the matter are you sick?"

Stanley M.—My dog tracked me five miles by the scent of my feet.

Truman—Why don't you wash your feet and fool him?

Mr. Cushman—"What's your business?"

Elmer F.—"None of yours."

Miss Clark—I wonder why Columbus imagined the world was round.

Jerry—Because it didn't give him a square deal.

Mr. Smith—What is a nonconductor?

Marius—One that is not a conductor.

Mr. Smith—Give an example.

Marius—A brakeman.

A dame I would like

To put out of biz;

The one who phones

"Guess who this is."

Eleven years ago Chicago prepared to go to war. If at that time Chicago had possessed its present reputation, the Kaiser might not have started anything.

Marius H.—This match won't light.

Miss Lindstrom—What is the matter with it?

Marius—I don't know. It lit alright a minute ago.

The British scientist who says the brain is the only part of the human machine that doesn't wear out may mean that it is the only part that is in no danger of being overworked.

Alton J.—I suppose you wish every year had 365 days of rest.

Alfred B.—Why so? Then I'd have to work a day every fourth year.

Kendall S.—How did you make out with the girl I saw you riding with last night?

Julian S.—Oh, she had the hoof and mouth disease.

K. S.—What do you mean? I thought only dumb animals had that.

J. S.—Well, she qualifies. She talked all the way out there and then walked back.

Mr. Smith—"I have a good ear for music."

Ted W.—"My ears aren't any good for anything but to catch dirt."

Mrs. Murphy—Now Mary, can you give me any reason why I should not punish you for your disobedience?

Mary—Yes, mother, the doctor said you weren't to take any violent exercise.

We wonder what would happen if:

Ruth forgot her vanity case.

Martha forgot her gum.

Kendall didn't have a date.

Elizabeth S. couldn't laugh.

Daisy got her algebra.

Clara got her Caesar.

Boots grew taller.

Helen S. took things seriously.

Irene S. forgot to take library.

Jean forgot to go to Latin class.

Carl L. would act his age.

Ellen G. wore long dresses.

Miss Lee forgot to give an assignment.

Miss Clark was mean.

Miss Hood forgot to take roll.

Mr. Cushman forgot to say: "Pick up that paper."

Mr. Smith forgot to go to Algebra class.

HOSPITAL DAY AT MERCY HOSPITAL

The Sisters of Mercy assisted by the ladies of the Hospital Aid, kept open house Saturday afternoon, May 12th at Mercy Hospital.

During the afternoon a very good representation of the Grayling public as well as several from out of the city called and were taken through our beautiful hospital which is one of the most complete and best maintained institutions of its kind in the state.

We are justly proud of it and it is fitting that once a year on National Hospital Day that the public visit the hospital and note improvements that have taken place from year to year.

The verandas and lawn had been decorated with the national colors for the occasion while inside the lower halls were attractive with bouquets of flowers.

Tes and coffee were served during the afternoon with Mrs. Esbern Hanson, president of the Hospital Aid and Mrs. Oscar Hanson pouring.

Mrs. C. R. Keyport was chairman of arrangements and Mrs. C. G. Clippert of the program which was very well received by those present.

The hospital is now under the direction of Sister Mary Leo and the usual standard of excellent management is being maintained.

THE LATE SENATOR WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS

(by Congressman R. O. Woodruff)

At 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 13th, in the Senate Chamber at the Capitol, memorial addresses were delivered on the late Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan, whose leadership in educational and political fields yielded such a marked influence over the lives and characters of Michigan people for the past forty-three years.

The speakers were Senators Couzens and Vandenberg of Michigan, Glass of Virginia, Fess of Ohio, George of Georgia, and Sheppard of Texas. These Senators paid high tribute to him as an educator and statesman. Senator Vandenberg, who was appointed by Governor Green to serve the unexpired term of Senator Ferris, inserted as a part of his eloquent address the undelivered speech of Senator Ferris on the subject of Education, which was prepared by him shortly before his death for delivery in the Senate.

RESIDENT OF GRAYLING SINCE 1902 PASSED AWAY

Carl A. Hagman, a well known and highly esteemed resident of Grayling since the autumn of 1902 passed away at his home in this city, Friday evening at six o'clock, following an illness of long duration.

Three months ago it was necessary for him to give up his work at Shoppemagons Inn, since which time he had been in a feeble condition and confined to his bed most of the time.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon with services at the home, at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. Wilfred Greenwood of the Michelson Memorial church officiating. The remains were laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery.

Mr. Hagman was born in Sweden, on November 21, 1862, and his boyhood and young manhood were spent in his native country. On November 22, 1884 he was united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Johnson and to the union two daughters were born, Edith and Elizabeth.

In the spring of 1902 the family came to America from Sweden and settled in Kenosha, Wisconsin, but remained there only until the following September when they came to Grayling where they have since resided. Mr. Hagman was employed in the mills of Salling Hanson Co., until the winter of 1924 when he was taken ill, from which illness he never fully recovered.

Surviving the deceased are his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Algot Johnson of Grayling and Mrs. Felix Erickson of Pocatello, Idaho, also a sister in Sweden and five grandchildren, Sigurd and Agda Johnson, Lorne, Stanley and Vern Erickson. Those who came to be in attendance at the funeral from out of town were Mrs. Erickson, Sigurd Johnson, Big Rapids, and Mrs. Peterson, of Joliet, Illinois, the latter who is a sister of Mrs. Hagman.

The deceased was a member of the Maccabee lodge and of the Scandinavian Fremerside lodge, having been president of the latter organization for several years.

The remaining members of the family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

livery in the Senate. I will be allotted a supply of the bound volumes of the proceedings in the Senate at these memorial exercises, and will be glad to supply copies to the people of my district upon request as soon as they are printed and available, until the supply becomes exhausted. SOUTH BRANCH COUPLE CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Royce in South Branch township was the scene of a happy event last Saturday, the occasion being their golden wedding anniversary.

Responding to invitations more than fifty relatives and friends were present to participate in the festivities.

At noon a sumptuous dinner was served and from then on until evening the time was spent in various amusements.

Mr. Royce and Miss Maria Mutter were married in Oakland county and came to Crawford county Nov. 12, 1882, locating upon a homestead on the banks of the AuSable river. They lived there until 1900 when they moved to their present farm which they have developed into one of the best in this section. Until this union were born six children, Mrs. Olive Crotteau of Bay City, Mrs. Edna Hodge of Mt. Morris, Mrs. Sylvia Allen of Holt, George of Ann Arbor and Lester and Porter who live at home, all of whom were present on this joyous occasion, as were all but two of their seventeen grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce are among the best known residents of Crawford county and they have a host of friends in both their home county and Roscommon who are glad indeed that they have been spared to enjoy this memorable occasion. The occasion brought them a shower of gifts from their many friends. Mr. Royce has had a prominent part in the political life of his township and on several occasions held the office of supervisor, was treasurer for seventeen terms and held many school offices.

Among the guests present were Gideon Crotteau, wife and three children of Bay City; George Royce, wife and six children of Ann Arbor; Sidney Hodge and two children of Mt. Morris; Fred Allen, wife and three children of Holt; also Warren Mutter and wife of Ortonville, the former a half brother of Mrs. Royce.—Roscommon Herald-News.

YOUNG COUPLE WED

The M. E. parsonage was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony Saturday evening, when Miss Alvina Krage of Fletcher was united in marriage to Mr. Floyd Rittenburgh of Houghton Lake. Rev. J. W. Greenwood officiated at the ceremony and the young couple were attended by Miss Elsie Smith of Onaway and Mr. Carlyle Brown of Grayling. The bride was prettily attired in peach georgette, heavily beaded. Her bridesmaid also wore the same color gown and both wore ribbon bandeaus and carried bouquets of sweet peas.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William Krage, of Fletcher, where following the ceremony a wedding lunch and dancing party was enjoyed by neighbors and friends of the young couple. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Rittenburgh of Houghton Lake, formerly of Woodland, Michigan. The young couple left Sunday for Flint, where they expect to remain indefinitely and carry with them the best wishes of hosts of friends.

John Wilfred Greenwood, Minister May 20th, 1928

At 10:30 a. m. the minister will speak on the theme "The Master Poet." Special music makes the morning service doubly attractive.

At 7:30 p. m. the third address in the series "Crisis in the Life of Christ." The theme will be "On the Hillside with the Common People!" Pictures illustrate the entire series.

"Character, Not Cash, Adorns Age"

"It's not the stocks and bonds and bank accounts that we accumulate in life, but the character we develop that counts!"

Sorrow, trouble, trials and tribulations bring lines of care upon a face, but they are marks of character.

Those who have suffered for their ideals, those who have sacrificed for those they loved, those who have suffered in silence, acquire a nobility of mind and soul that pedigree and luxury and selfish success do not bring.

I have seen nobility of character chiseled on the fine old face of a workman more kindly than one sees in the faces of those who were wrapped in ermine and crowned with gold.

I have seen a holiness of expression that comes from faith with mankind upon the humble that is often lacking in the countenance of those who profess great piety.

Fine tailoring, and costly cars, and studied manners, and the power of purse do not erase the weak lines of a wasted life that shows in the faces of persons who live dissipated, selfish, greedy lives.

Be the answer to one's life. Those who live and think right need not fear to grow old.

Contact with the aged is one of the finest, most inspiring lessons that youth may have. That home in which there is an aged one is blessed indeed. Young folks often grow impatient with the aged, but the day will come when they will realize that the most precious lessons they have learned were those of patience and peace and the calm resignation and fearlessness to meet their God that you can only learn from those dear old ones!

To be loved and respected in one's old age is life's greatest reward.

The memory and inspiration of a good life, well lived, that is the most precious heritage a person can leave! Beside which worldly goods are but but the worthless confetti often left behind by those who lived as if it were a carnival."

SUPREME PRELATE VISITS GRAYLING

The local Pythians and a few friends enjoyed Tuesday evening with Frederick S. Atwood, of Minneapolis, Minn., supreme prelate of the Knights of Pythias. Mr. Atwood gave a very interesting discourse at Michelson Memorial church on what a candidate receives when initiated into the order. Instead of the ridiculous form of "riding the goat," as the term is generally conceived, he nicely unfolded the beautifulness of the Pythian ritualistic principles.

During the evening Mrs. Harold Jarmin and Mrs. Roy Mines rendered a duet very beautifully, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Emil Giegling.

Pythianism is founded on friendship and since its inception at Washington, D. C. 1864, it has been the means of uniting many factions, particularly the people of the North and South, following the Civil war. The ideals of the order are high and wholesome, and the spirit cheerful and optimistic.

Mr. Atwood is a charming character and has won the hearts of vast audiences from coast to coast and from the arctic to the gulf. About 22 years ago he lost his eyesight while traveling to install the officers of a Pythian lodge. He and his companion were caught in a severe blizzard and with the mercury standing at 40 below zero his face and eyes were frozen. He never regained his eyesight, but in spite of this handicap he is enjoying a happy life, rich with the warmest friendship of many thousands of Pythians everywhere. This is the first time a supreme officer ever visited Grayling lodge. It was a very high honor to come to the local members, one of which the members are highly appreciative.

FOREST FIRES DID MUCH DAMAGE

ABOUT 8 TO 10 THOUSAND ACRES DEVASTATED

The demon Fire cut loose again last week and destroyed from eight to ten thousand acres of forest. It started in section 27, town 27-2, in the forest reserve. There was much fine timber in that region and practically all was destroyed.

The fire travelled east and north and reached nearly to Lovells; and also southeast crossing the north branch of the AuSable river and reached nearly to the main stream of the AuSable, near the Rainbow and Chicago clubs.

It is believed the fire is the result of the careless throwing out of a lighted match or cigarette. Men were hauling wood from that region and some believe it may have been caused by one of them. Large crews of men were busy just as soon as they could be assembled, and the fighting went on day and night. The grass and brush was dry as tinder and the fire spread rapidly. A high wind during a large portion of the time made the task doubly difficult. We understand the fire was first reported by the fire-watch near Knecht lake—Floyd Taylor. From a tiny smoke it quickly developed into a raging monster.

That region was well stocked with wild game and a warden reports that a number of fawns lost their lives in the conflagration. Rabbits ran about everywhere and seemed to appeal to the men for protection. And no doubt many nests of partridge and insectivorous birds were destroyed. The loss of wild life is surmised to have been large.

Rumors of Yanki San's beauty are carried by the fisher lads to the court of the Mikado. The Mikado sends ambassadors to the island to negotiate for the hand of Yanki San. The Prince refuses to let them see Yanki San and suggests that they take one of the twins, but they depart in anger.

Finally, all cures being of no avail to awaken the Princess from the spell of the Wolf Witch, her father offers her hand to whomsoever will slay the Wolf Witch and break its charm. Prince Toto, the Good, son of the Mikado, slays the Wolf Witch and carries Yanki San back to old Japan as his bride.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE WED

A wedding of interest to their many friends was that of Miss Anna C. Peterson and Mr. Alfred Hanson that took place last night at the parsonage of the Danish-Lutheran church.

Miss A. Ingeborg Hanson attended the bride as bridesmaid, Mr. Harry Hemmington acted as best man, and Mr. J. C. Keyport officiated at the ceremony. The young couple are among Grayling's most popular young people, having hosts of friends by whom they are held in high esteem. Mr. Hanson is owner of the Alfred Hanson Service station and for some time past Mrs. Hanson has helped him in the business. Also the former is Grayling township's obliging and efficient clerk and has held many other offices of trust in the township and Village. Both are enterprising young people and the Avalanche joins with their many friends in wishing them much happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson have rented the Harriet Sorenson home on Ionia street, where they will be at home to their friends.

Pretty Dinner Frock

Myrna Loy proves her talent for designing by this simple yet beautiful dinner frock of black pussy-willow taffeta with overdress of black dotted lace, showing the uneven neckline. Two large bows at the hips of taffeta and lace add a touch of smartness to the gown, and a colored flower at the shoulder completes the effect. A large black sash and tulle hat is most appropriate with this dress.

"Sigsbee Owl"

Safety first lessons were in order last Wednesday, when the smell of smoke from the timber burning in sections 25 and 27, reached us.

Herbert, Marguerite and Donald Feldhauser were fire orphans, being unable to attend school for three days because their father (A. P. Feldhauser, keyman for this county) had to use their car to oversee the burning area.

Roger Kneff presented us with a new bookcase. Its need was evidenced by the fact that we obtained twelve new books.

We are proud of a picture of George Washington by Stuart, which we won as a reward for successfully carrying out the "Better Breakfasts" contest.

The sweet peas which the Nature Study class planted are up about four inches.

Jack Feldhauser gave a detailed speech on the "Habits of the Porcupine." This was the outcome of a minute observation last Sunday in Maple Forest.

Thomas Wakley presented Miss Brewster with a bouquet of violets Wednesday. We wonder if this is a peace offering.

Everyone is looking forward to summer vacation. Plans for picnics, fishing trips, etc., are being contrived. Miss Brewster is going to attend school in Mt. Pleasant.

Saturday afternoon we boys hiked to the fire tower. We entertained Freddy Smith from Bay City. Our teacher proved to be a very efficient climber.

Harriet Wakley has been absent the last three weeks because of the illness of her mother.

"Buddy" Jorgenson, trying to set a new "bike" speed record when the last bell began to ring, broke three spokes in his bicycle.

Miss Brewster spent Sunday at Was-tika. She and Roger canoeed down river.

We have been blessed with visitors in plenty the last weeks having from three to six in a single day.

All the classes are busy preparing for the finals which begin next week.

The weather for the past three days has been—but words fail.

M. A. Bates has bought the store building of Dr. Woodworth on Michigan avenue.

N. P. Michelson has leased the Central hotel to O. Milnes, who has taken possession and who will undoubtedly be a successful boniface.

William G. Woodfield came home from West Branch to play with the babies over Sunday. He has sold his business down there and will resume his old job on the railroad.

Edgar Wilkinson of Maple Forest was in town yesterday and claims to have received less than half the money that was paid in for his benefit, after his loss by fire.

Maifant, nee Maude Robinson, joined her husband last week at Cheboygan, where he has a good position on the railroad, which has induced them to transfer their home to that city. The Avalanche will follow them with best wishes.

Harry Johnson has gone into the dispatcher's office in Bay City, which is a fine promotion and if permanent will soon lead to another. Our only regret is that it will take him and his wife from our village. He is succeeded by the night operator, Louis Ueberhust.

If you don't feel that you can stand up and say a good word for your town and county at least don't go about running them down. Men differ in their judgment as to what is good or bad or indifferent in things of this kind, and the other fellow may have a better idea of them than you have.

Miss Steiger was in charge of medical work among 150,000 Greek refugees in Samson on the Black sea during the Christian evacuations from Turkey when epidemics of smallpox, scarlet fever, typhus and mumps were raging. For this work she was awarded the highest civil decoration in the gift of the Greek government, the Cross of the Order of George I.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR SEPT. 28

Detroit, May 15.—Prizes totaling more than $125,000 will be awarded at the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 28, the most impressive premium list in the history of the fair, according to State Fair officials. Last year the prizes were approximately $107,000.

Awards for live stock, pet stock and poultry, amounting to $44,115 are included in the largest general appropriation. A prize list of $30,250 for racing and blooded horses, will attract some of the most noted horsemen and racing stables in the country. Draft and standard-bred horses are included in this total.

In order to do justice to the variety of exhibits at the fair, a visitor should devote at least one whole day and two nights to seeing the fair.

One entire afternoon alone would be necessary, before and after the vaudeville program and harness races in front of the grandstand, to properly inspect the live stock, horticultural, floral, agricultural, dairy and commercial displays. One evening could be devoted profitably to attendance at the horsemanship in the Coliseum, where not only Detroit society will display the cleverness and beauty of their imported saddle mounts, but where other states will send their best horses. The 21 acts of vaudeville and the fireworks spectacle "A Night in Bagdad"—in front of the grandstand—would occupy a second evening.

Horticultural, floral and agricultural displays—one of the most beautiful and impressive attractions at the fair, will be housed in the $100,000 building set aside for these three exhibits, where color and profusion of flowers will run riot.

This modern and complete structure, completed only two years ago, will have its exhibits under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture, the Michigan State College, provincial, florists and farmers from all sections of Michigan.

The 1928 Official Premium List, the catalog which designates prizes for entries in every department at the fair, will be ready for distribution between May 15-20, and will be mailed free to anyone addressing the State Fair offices at the Fair grounds.

Entries for the harness racing which will take place on five afternoons during the fair, from Monday to Friday inclusive, are rapidly being closed. The large number of entrants indicates that the harness racing events will be one of the most popular features for the general public.

A large number of commercial exhibits, housed in three separate buildings, already include many Detroit and nationally-known firms.

The Canadian Government Conservation Department will have an impressive exhibit and the U. S. Shipping board will call attention, by graphic displays, to its worldwide travel and shipping facilities.

Husband, cow and hog calling, and horsemanship contests, will all bring experts in these lines to compete for the state championship and suitable prizes.

Lieut-Commander John Philip Sousa and his internationally famous band of 70 musicians and soloists, will open the fair on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 2, with a sacred concert in the Coliseum. "A Night in Bagdad"—a spectacular fireworks and dramatic presentation, and 21 acts of 'big-time' vaudeville in front of the capacious grandstand, will be the major attractions in the evening.

For the thousands who come annually to the fair by automobile, special parking grounds have been provided. Midway attractions will be complete and interesting. The gate admission price will be 25 cents, the same as last year.

COLLEGE FRIENDSHIP

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THE fraternity was celebrating the fortieth anniversary of its founding and they had come back, these three old boys, to take part in the celebration. One was a banker and one was a lawyer and the third was a physician, high up in scientific accomplishment. I was simply an on-looker, a grand officer of the organization. I would be introduced at the banquet with the old familiar phrase, "We are very fortunate to have with us this evening," etc., but I really didn't count. It was the three men who counted. Past sixty they were, and charter members, and friends through more than forty years.

There are no friendships, it seems to me, quite like college friendships. Boys come together at a most impressionable time of life. They are away from home probably for the first time, very often they know no one, and possibly they are desperately homesick. There is the community of interest immediately, a bond of sympathy, a mutual understanding and a mutual helpfulness. It was thus these three had met.

They came into the chapter house, gray haired, the slenderness of youth gone, as was the spiritlessness of youth. The active men—boys, I might better say—received them with some ceremony as befitted their age. They expected dignity and a certain reserve, but the old men greeted each other as in the old days.

"Hello, Ed."

"Well, you old buzzard, Liege."

"And here's our little Willie boy."

They sat with their arms around each other; they told old tales of half-forgotten escapades, of tricks they had played upon each other, of the clever ways in which they had kept the wolf from the door, for none of them had an easy life in college. Each man had succeeded in his own way, but it was not of this that they talked; it was of the old days, of the old friends, the old tasks, and as they talked they seemed to grow closer together. They were inseparable. They wandered over the old college grounds; they sought out the places where they had lived, they strolled down the old walks as they had done when their sweethearts were with them forty years before. They said nothing serious; they gave no wise advice to the young fellows. There was no regretting misused hours while in college. They were simply getting all the joy and happiness out of the reunion that it was possible to get.

Their speeches at the banquet were all humorous speeches, only at the last moment there was a little ceremony, and the doctor was presented with a jeweled pin in recognition of some service he had rendered to the chapter, and some very tender words were said. The judge pinned the emblem on, and there were tears in his eyes, and there were tears in everyone's eyes, and they had their arms about each other, these old men, and then they smiled and wiped the tears out of their eyes.

"Aren't we fools?" they said to each other.

College friendships! There's nothing like them.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

SPECIAL CROPS GIVE GOOD YIELD OF HAY

Soybeans and Sudan grass as emergency hay crops where seedlings of legumes have been winter-killed are recommended by the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

Soybean hay has about the same feeding value as alfalfa hay, and the yield of hay will average two and one-half tons an acre. Soybeans are usually planted the last of May or the first of June, in 28 inch rows.

Manchu, to San, and Midwest are the varieties that usually are most satisfactory for Michigan conditions. Soybeans are ready to cut for hay in late August or early September. Under bad weather conditions, the hay can be cured satisfactorily by using the McNaughton system.

Sudan grass makes a good emergency pasture crop. When sown the last of May, it will be ready for pasture in July. The seed is drilled at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds to the acre. A drill set to sow two pecks of wheat to the acre will sow the required amount of Sudan grass seed.

For hog or sheep pasture, rape is a satisfactory crop. From three to five pounds of seed to the acre is required. If the field is divided so that the stock can be shifted from one part to another, the crop will furnish good forage until late in the fall.

THE PRINTING OFFICE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THE other boys, when we all went to town on Saturday afternoon as was the general custom, had their various loading places—the barber shop, the office of the grain elevator, the blacksmith shop or the corner by the drug store, where the girls were likely to gather or to pass by to the milliner store next door. I always brought up at the printing office. I first got acquainted with the editor of the local paper when he held father up on the street and persuaded him to subscribe for the Journal. I think it was then that he invited me to come upstairs and see how a newspaper was made.

It was all very new and very interesting to me. There were the cases of type before which the men with composing sticks in their hands were setting up type for the next issue of the paper, for everything was done by hand in those days. Even the heavy old press on which the paper was printed was run by hand. I tried to pull the lever which made the impression, but it was far too stiff to be moved by my slender arms. There were the imposing stones—I never could understand why they used that word—upon which the type was carefully placed when set up, and great piles of paper, and all sorts of curious things.

I got a thrill when one of the "types" let me hold a stick in my hand and showed me where all the various letters and punctuation marks were. I could not see at first why they were not arranged in regular order like a normal alphabet. It was a little confusing at first to read everything upside down, but I soon got used to it. I have had no greater pride in any personal accomplishment than the moment when I stood by the printer and saw him setting up the paragraphs which I myself had written.

I had not been in college a week before I wandered around to the old office where the college bi-monthly was set up and printed. I was office devil for a year. Most of my college friends were made in the old office. My knowledge of typesetting helped me to earn a living for four years. It taught me accuracy in punctuation, discrimination in the use of words; it emphasized the importance of correct spelling. It gave me an ambition. I determined to be a great editor and to spend my life in and about a printing office. It was, of course, a frustrated ambition, but I still love to look about a printing office. No one has a more definite philosophy of life than the printer. He could settle any social, political, or religious difficulty if given half a chance. I love the smell of ink and the sound of the typeset machines as they click off the lines, and the noise of the great presses as they turn out the freshly printed and folded newspapers. There is a great education for the loafer in a printing office. I learned a tremendous amount there.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Senate May Keep Tax Cut Down to 200 Millions—Week in Politics.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY MELLON presented to the senate finance committee his new program of tax reduction, and the Republican members of the committee, together with Senator King of Utah, Democrat, gave the plan their tentative approval in its general features. The result will be that the bill presented to the senate will provide for a tax cut amounting to about $200,000,000. Instead of the $250,000,000 reduction called for in the house measure.

Mr. Mellon asserted that the prospective $252,000,000 surplus for the fiscal year 1929 already has been shaved to $212,000,000 and that if Congress appropriates $30,000,000 for flood protection during that year the surplus will be further reduced to $182,000,000. On the basis of these figures he scaled down the administration tax cut maximum, which he placed at $225,000,000 last fall, to $200,000,000 without allowance for food control and to less than $182,000,000 if the expected appropriation for this purpose is made.

By a vote of 18 to 6 the committee formally approved a reduction in the tax on corporation earnings from 13 1/2 to 12 per cent, meaning a reduction in revenue of $123,000,000, and it also approved the repeal of the estate tax, which will cut the revenue $7,000,000 more. In apportioning the remaining $70,000,000 it was necessary to decide whether to approve the scaling down of intermediate surtax rates proposed by Secretary Mellon, involving a loss in revenue of $50,000,000, or whether to use this amount in the reduction or repeal of the automobile and other miscellaneous taxes which Secretary Mellon believes should be retained. It was expected the committee would approve an increase in the exemption for small corporations as in the house bill.

CHARLES E. HUGHES having declined the job, the Republican national committee selected Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio as temporary chairman and "keynote" of the Kansas City convention. There was no opposition to this choice, as Senator Fess is able and eloquent and has at all times been a loyal supporter of the policies of President Coolidge and of the Republican party. His name remained on the Ohio ballot as one of the Willis candidates for delegate at large, but he announced that if he were elected he would have no declared first choice for President. His second choice, as indicated under the requirements of the Ohio law, is Senator Curtis of Kansas. But it is known that he really favors Hoover if the drafting of Coolidge cannot be put through. The other Willis candidates for delegate also decided that they would go to the convention without first choice. Their second choice pledges, which are to stand, are 34 for Lowden, 8 for Curtis and 9 for Col. Charles Fisher of Wilmington, Ohio.

If the name of Charles G. Dawes is placed before the convention, he will have the support of those delegates. All of which is contingent on their election in the primaries.

New York Republicans elected 90 unopposed delegates, of whom the Hooverites claim at least 47. Among those chosen was Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, wet leader, who defeated an avowed dry. In the Wisconsin Republican primary the La Follette forces received the first serious setback they have had in years. According to incomplete returns the total delegation at Kansas City will be made up of 15 La Follette men, pledged to Senator Norris, and 11 anti-La Follette men, most of whom are unopposed. Hoover was the only announced candidate in the Michigan primary and will have that state's 33 votes.

After winning 90 Michigan delegates without contest, Al Smith next day captured 124 more votes in three states. These included 36 from New York, 12 from Maine and 20 from Wisconsin. In the Badger state the Walsh candidates were snuffed under by the slate of delegates sponsored by National Committeeman J. M. Callahan and pledged to Smith. The voters, however, in marking their Presidential preference ballots gave Senator Reed of Missouri a three-to-one majority over the governor of New York. Smith's name had to be written in the ballot.

Reverting to the Republican situation, attention should be called to the action of the corn belt committee in Des Moines. Claiming to represent more than a million organized farmers, the committee adopted a resolution opposing the election of Hoover should he be nominated by the Republican convention. In that event the committee plans to throw its voting strength to the Democratic nominee.

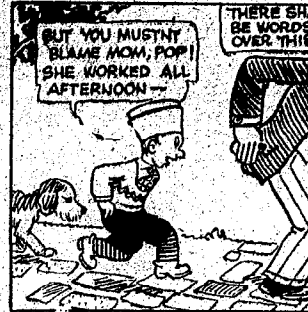

GOVERNOR GREEN of Michigan appointed Arthur H. Vanderberg to fill out the unexpired term of the late United States Senator W. N. Ferris. The appointment is good only until next December, but Mr. Vanderberg announced that he will be a candidate for election to the senate in the fall. The new senator is editor of the Grand Rapids Herald and is a student and writer on American history and the Constitution. He is only forty-four years old.

Cyrus Locher, a Democrat, was named to fill out the term of the late Senator Willis of Ohio by Governor Donahay. Mr. Locher is the state director of commerce and resides in Cleveland.

SUCH IS LIFE

By Charles Sugrue

Removing The Rabbit's Feathers

IN Washington it was stated the men named by Fall were Will Hall, Senator Reed Smoot of Utah and ex-Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin. Both Smoot and Lenroot branded Fall's story as utterly false. Lenroot said Fall told him he got the money from McLean and he then had every reason to believe Fall was telling the truth.

GENIAL, optimistic, picturesque old Chauncey M. Depew has passed away at the age of ninety-four years. The former senator from New York and chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central railroad succumbed to pneumonia at his residence in the metropolis only a few days after his return from a trip to Florida. Born in Peekskill in 1834, Mr. Depew was educated at Yale and then was admitted to the bar. He was active in politics all his life from his twenty-first year and attended every Republican national convention as a delegate since 1888 with the exception of that of 1924. At the 1888 convention he received 99 votes for the Presidential nomination. He served two terms as United States senator, from 1889 to 1911. In 1880 he entered the service of the Vanderbilt railroad system and remained with it until his death. For 13 years he was president of the New York Central. He was especially well known for his public addresses and his after-dinner speeches. He attributed his longevity to his "refusal to worry."

GREAT BRITAIN'S plan to keep up the price of rubber by restricting the exports, known as the Stevenson scheme, has failed. Prime Minister Baldwin announced to the house of commons that the government had decided that all restrictions on the export of rubber from Malaya and Ceylon would be removed beginning November 1, 1928. According to the Stevenson plan the exportable percentage of production was determined at the beginning of each quarter by the average price during the preceding quarter. It was attacked especially by American users as an attempt by Great Britain to monopolize rubber, and was successful for a time. But Dutch competition in Sumatra, American conservation, German synthetic rubber and new planting projects doomed the scheme to failure. During recent months the price of rubber has steadily declined, and experts predict that it will stay low, despite the abandonment of the British plan, until the inefficient producers are driven out.

THE house committee on flood control accepted the senate's bill on that matter and all looked rosy until Tuesday, when President Coolidge advised the house leaders that he was not satisfied with the compromise effected and feared the pending measure would involve huge expenditures in excess of the $325,000,000 authorized. He still wished the appointment of an economic commission to study the question of local contributions, and favored a number of other amendments. The Republican house leaders therefore decided the bill should not be called up before the latter part of this week. The house committee also fears an adequate flood protection program will cost more than is provided for in the senate bill. In its report the committee contends that the cost of flood control works and rights of way under the Jadwin plan would be $205,000,000, which is exclusive of $111,000,000 for improving navigation. The Mississippi river commission's plan, which under the terms of the Jones bill may be adopted if desired in cases where it conflicts with the Jadwin plan, would cost $225,000,000 for flood control works and rights of way. Both of these apply only to the lower Mississippi river.

MINISTER MACMURRAY went from Peking down to Shanghai to settle with the Chinese Nationalist government the row over the Nanking outrages of March, 1927, and settle it he did, to the satisfaction of Washington, without yielding to the arrogance of the Chinese or sacrificing the prestige of the United States. The British press in Hongkong was astonished by Mr. MacMurray's success where the British minister had failed, and jeered at the settlement as one of expediency due to the approaching elections in America.

PREMIER MUSSOLINI and the pope seem both to be determined not to continue the controversy over the education of the youth of Italy. The Vatican organ "in a conciliatory editorial declared the Holy See had no intention of projecting itself into the affairs of the Italian state, and the pope sternly notified the Italian press that this must be considered as absolutely closing the incident. It is understood that though there is to be no rescinding of the decree against Catholic boy scout organizations, a flexible formula for procedure will be found whereby the decree disbanding them in most places will be avoided.

SMYRNA, the unfortunate Asia Minor seaport, was shattered by a series of earthquake shocks extending through several days and affecting also a number of near-by villages. The fatalities were numerous and a great many buildings were destroyed, among them being some of the fine structures erected since the great conflagration of 1922. The first tremors were preceded by a terrifying display of celestial electricity.

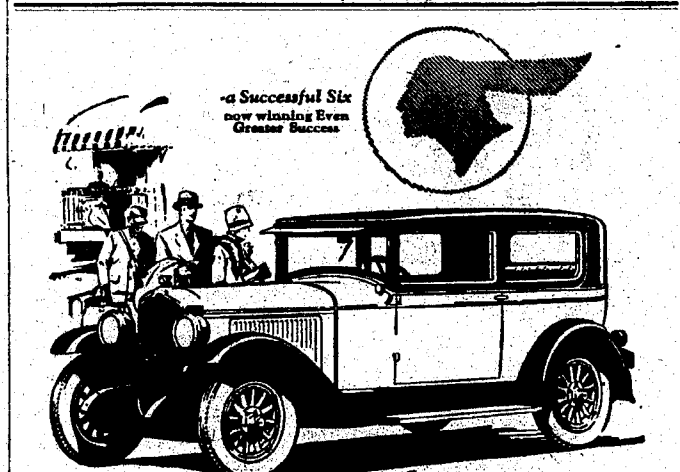

FRANCE'S latest note to America concerning the Washington proposal for an unqualified multilateral treaty to end war accepts the plan with reservations, and leads Secretary of State Kellogg to believe a real step has been taken toward abolishing armed conflict. It is understood the next move will be to extend the negotiations to include England, Germany, Italy and Japan. Brind has abandoned his contention that the term "aggressive war" be substituted for "all war," but he makes it perfectly clear that the French government cannot allow the proposed treaty to interfere with French obligations under the league. The foreign minister also declares that the inclusion of all powers in the league is absolutely necessary in the interests of world peace.

PEACE negotiations between Poland and Lithuania, held in Koenigsberg, Germany, fell through mainly because Premier Waldemars would not yield on the question of Vilna. He knew if he did, his government would be overthrown, for the Lithuanians insist the city Poland grabbed must be restored to them. The conference may be resumed later, for three commissions were named to study questions of economics, security and nationalities.

WORKS ALL DAY, STAYS UP LATE, GAINS 5 LBS.

"It's easy for me to do a full day's work and stay up late nights since taking Vinol. My weight has increased 5 pounds."—Earl Dunlap.
Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a big appetite. The very first bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious.

In spite of terrific punishment, testing tires for the Lee Tire Company of Cambridge, Pa., this Buick rounded out 100,000 miles of service without having had a cent spent for repairs. It averages 550 miles a day, over all kinds of roads and in all weather, but has demanded only fuel, lubricants, and anti-freeze solution. Valves have been never ground, nor spark plugs changed.

Sparks flew from the burning buildings and caught on the dry grass several feet away, and with a brisk wind blowing from the north it was some time before it could be gotten under control. A crew of men with shovels and a couple of plows were put to work and after some hard fighting they finally succeeded in getting it under control. NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Watson Defeats Hoover in Indiana—Japan's Fight-ing Chinese.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

INDIANA farmers indicated last week that they did not approve of the Presidential candidacy of Herbert Hoover. The vote of the rural districts in the Republican primary was strong enough to give Senator James E. Watson, favorite son, a majority of something like 25,000 over the secretary of commerce, whose strength was mainly in the cities and larger towns; and the 33 Hoover delegates at Kansas City will vote for the senator at least on the first ballot. Anti-Hooverites claimed the result in Indiana was a severe blow to Hoover's chances, but his supporters asserted he really had won a victory by keeping Watson's majority down to comparatively small figures.

Despite Senator Watson's protestations that he is in the race to win, the politicians nearly all assume that he is a stalking horse for Lowden or Dawes, and the opinion is widespread that the Indiana delegation, or many of its members, will shift to Dawes as soon as the senator releases them, though they may first give Lowden a chance. G. Burt Thurman, the Watson campaign manager in the state, said: "Indiana will be for Dawes or Lowden or any other Republican," with significant emphasis on the word Republican. Maryland Republicans last Tuesday pledged their 19 delegates to Hoover.

Democrats of Indiana voted to send their 30 delegates to Houston instructed to vote for Evans Woollen, the Indianapolis banker whom Tom Taggart brought forward. He was unopposed. The Republicans renominated Senator Robinson and the Democrats picked Albert Stump for the senate. The nominations for governor must be made by the party conventions, for no candidate on either side won a clear majority.

Michigan's state Democratic convention voted to instruct the delegation of 30 to vote as a unit for Al Smith, the opposition being easily squelched. But the fight against the New York governor is not entirely abandoned, for in Alabama the anti-Smith or "un-instructed delegation" faction captured the majority of the state's delegates to Houston. In Texas the bitter struggle to send an uninstructed delegation to the Republican convention seemed likely to win.

SENATOR STEWART'S campaign expenditures investigation committee has not brought out anything interesting so far except a small display of temper by Herbert Hoover. He was subjected to a long examination as to promises, contributions and political deals and managed to retain control of himself, but when Senator Barkley of Kentucky asked him whether he had advised the manufacturers of chinaware to raise the price of china, he exploded, saying: "I wonder, Mr. Chairman, if the committee is not getting down to dealing with a pretty small type of street slander."

From the other candidates for the Presidential nomination the committee extracted no information in the least sensational.

BOTH the house and senate accepted the conference report on the flood control bill after the measure had been so altered that it would meet with the approval of the President. Three important revisions suggested by Mr. Coolidge were made, and it was understood the bill would receive executive approval, although the President still dislikes some of its provisions.

The bill as it reached the President authorizes the expenditure of $325,000,000 for the flood control project, but, according to President Coolidge and Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of engineers, the actual minimum cost will be at least $500,000,000. The bill places final authority in the hands of the President. Actual construction work would be in charge of the present Mississippi river commission under the direction of the secretary of war and the supervision of the chief of engineers.

While the bill declares for the retention of the principle of local contribution toward flood control projects, local interests under the bill must furnish only such additional rights of way as are needed for levees on the main channel of the Mississippi and must maintain the flood control works when completed. The federal government will bear the entire cost of construction of levees and other flood control works and will furnish rights of way for levees along floodways and spillways.

FOR the first time in history the senate has assumed the prerogative of offering advice to the Supreme Court of the United States. By a vote of 40 to 31 it approved a resolution asking that Donald G. Ritchie, of Chicago, counsel for the national conference on the valuation of American railways, be allowed to intervene in proceedings before the court for the purpose of making an oral argument and filing a brief. The conference, Ritchie represents, was formed some years ago by radical groups and is headed by Senator Norris of Nebraska, who introduced the extraordinary resolution. The case in question is an appeal by the railroads from a lower court's decision upholding the interstate commerce commission's ruling with respect to the determination of valuation for rate-making and recapture purposes.

CHINA and Japan are actually at war, though not officially, because Japan insists on giving military protection to theantung railway and to her nationals there. Protests of both the Nationalist and the Peking government were unheeded and bloody clashes between the Japanese and the Southerners at Tsinan, capital of Shantung province, followed. There were many casualties on both sides and the fighting continues at the time of writing. Each side blamed the other for the outbreak of hostilities, and each accused the other of brutal outrages. The Japanese commander in Shantung established a neutral zone along the railway and, at latest reports had driven the Southerners out of it. The Tokyo government speedily prepared and sent over heavy reinforcements and dispatched additional warships. Then Marshal Chang, dictator of north China, issued a proclamation ordering all his forces to cease fighting the Nationalists, in order, evidently, that the Chinese nation might employ its combined strength in combating the Japanese aggression. In his pronouncement Chang intimated his intention of soon retiring to Manchuria, stating he was willing to be not insistent regarding national politics, and he concluded with the statement that the ship of state was sinking rapidly and he hoped the people would come to their senses and save the country from destruction.

Suggestions of mediation by the United States have been made but are useless, for Washington has said it would not undertake to mediate unless asked to do so by both sides, and Japan says it will neither ask nor accept mediation. The unofficial government view in Tokyo is that Japan does not consider the present situation war and that therefore the matter can be settled diplomatically between Japan and China. All Americans in the war zone are believed to be safe, though some, including Consul Price at Tsinan, were under fire.

RUMANIA almost had a revolution last week, but the government nipped it in the bud. The peasants gathered in vast throngs—two hundred thousand in Albaluia and smaller numbers in other places—and formulated demands for a change of government and the end of the despotic regime of Premier Brătianu. Some of the leaders wished to have the hordes march on Bucharest to enforce their demands, but others dissented and only a few thousands started on the trek to the capital and they soon quit.

At the gatherings the government had stationed large detachments of troops which did not interfere with the deliberations but effectually squelched all the ardor for militant action. An interesting feature of the affair was the fact that Prince Carol, in England with his female companion, plotted to take advantage of the assemblage of the peasants to gain possession of the throne. He intended to send airplanes over to scatter messages to the people, and perhaps to fly there himself. But the British government discovered the plan, frustrated it and ordered Carol to leave the country. It was rumored he might come to the United States. Leaders of the peasants' party denied that they had any part in Carol's scheme.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., has made public two letters to Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in which he asked the latter to resign his position because of the revelation of Stewart's participation in the Continental Trading company's deals that were involved in the Teapot Dome lease scandal. Mr. Rockefeller wrote Colonel Stewart that he was calling upon him "to make good the promise you voluntarily gave me some weeks ago that you would resign at my request." Stewart up to the time of writing has declined to comment on the matter. Rockefeller is a very large stockholder in the Standard of Indiana, but it was said in Wall street that he might not be able to enforce his demand for Stewart's resignation if the chairman decided to resist. District Attorney Rover in Washington submitted a transcript of Stewart's testimony before the senate Teapot Dome committee to the federal grand jury with a view to his indictment.

I looked in the cookie jar And what did I see, A big round cookie That mother put there for me. Mother looked in the cookie jar But she did not see, The big round cookie That she put there for me.

We are patiently waiting for vacation. We wonder: Why Alfred is absent so much. Why the third graders got stuck in number work.

Why the first graders were so quiet Monday afternoon. If we're going to have a school picnic this year.

L. D. Spencer was a primary visitor one day last week. Spring is surely here if the bare-foot boys are any indications of it. Second and Third graders finished "The Bluebird" last Friday.

Third graders are having a little difficulty in mastering multiplication problems but they will win. First graders are learning "The Robin" by Lawrence Tadema.

Beginners are telling stories of the land and sea.

In a speed test in reading last week Della Baldwin and Shirley Corsaut held first places. Come and see us.

Miss Barber, teacher. The baccalaureate address will be delivered Sunday evening, May 27 in the Methodist Protestant church, Frederic, by Rev. Earl.

Class Day exercises will be given Tuesday evening, May 29 in the school gymnasium.

Commencement will be Thursday evening, May 31. The speaker for the evening will be Professor F. E. Robinson of the Central State Teachers College.
